

CONFLICT MINERALS POLICY

PowerFlow Fluid Systems supports the efforts initiated by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010(The Act) aimed at ending the violence and human rights violations occurring in the eastern portion of the Democratic Republic of the Congo(DRC) and surrounding countries(the conflict region). These efforts are focused on eliminating the financial support of any group involved in mining or smelting of the minerals used to produce the metals tin, tungsten, tantalum and gold(3TG) that are also committing acts of violence or human rights abuses. In response to The Act, the Securities and Exchange Commission adopted final rules requiring all publicly traded companies to provide reports and disclosures related to the 3TG content of any products they manufacture and/or distribute.

Although PowerFlow Fluid Systems is a private company and, hence, not required to report directly to the SEC, we are a first and second tier supplier to many of our customers that are publicly traded and subject to the SEC reporting requirements. Furthermore, as a company, we endeavor to participate in the efforts initiated by The Act and by doing so eliminate the violence and human rights abuses occurring in the conflict region.

We Are Committed To The Following:

- Support the aims and objectives of the US legislation regarding the supply of 3TG from the conflict region.
- Not knowingly procure any goods containing 3TG from the conflict region that are not certified as "conflict free".
- Request that our suppliers perform reasonable due diligence within their supply chains to discover the source of origin for any 3TG contained within products supplied to us.
- Work with any of our customers who are required to report conflict minerals information to the SEC or to a higher-level customer in a complete and expedient fashion to facilitate their reporting needs.
